This open space apartment consists of large relaxing areas combining living-room with fireplace, kitchen, bar, sports area, 2 guest rooms with en-suite bathroom fully equipped with walk-in closets. The apartment has stunning glazed area: a multifunctional living room converted into a social area (a cinema, bar and sports zone) with an attractive terrace with sofas and superb winter garden behind it. The design is set on the comfortable lush interiors with warm, rich colours; and based on clean, clear shaped system with rational use of space and harmony of proportions. The aim was to present interior that is solid, versatile, intriguing and multifunctional. The designer used contrasting techniques that both hold together the whole interior and make it dynamic (It flows, plays and sets the drive).

The beautiful and luxurious finishes were designed as pieces of furniture produced by leading manufacturers in Italy (Baxter, Malerba), America (Ralph Lauren) and England (Andrew Martin), pearl lamps by Verner Panton.

The apartment's style resembles modern understanding of luxury. The design is based on clear system with rational use of space and harmony of proportions with added warm, saturated colours. The luxurious materials such as American walnut and polished ebony, natural stone, marble Nero Portoro and onyx, leather panels on the walls and furniture were used to create this interior. The selected materials and furniture emphasize the masculine character of the interior, and intelligently placed accents and decorative accessories add to it warmth and convenience.
